Canada

How Consumer Law Relates to this Limited Warranty

The Bretford Limited Warranty gives you specific legal rights, and you may have other rights that vary from Province to Province. Other than as permitted by law, Bretford does not exclude, limit, or suspend other rights you may have, including those that may arise from the nonconformity of a sales contract. For a full understanding of your rights you should consult the laws of your Province. Residents of Quebec are governed by that province's consumer protection legislation.

Warranty Limitations Subject to Consumer Law

Applicable to all of Canada, except Quebec: To the extent permitted by law, this Limited Warranty and the remedies set forth are exclusive and in lieu of all other warranties, remedies and conditions, whether oral, written, statutory, express or implied. Bretford disclaims all statutory and implied warranties, including without limitation, warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose and warranties against hidden or latent defects, to the extent permitted by law. In so far as such warranties cannot be disclaimed, Bretford limits the duration and remedies of such warranties to the duration of this express warranty and, at Bretford's option, the repair or replacement services described below. Some provinces do not allow limitations on how long an implied warranty (or condition) may last, so the limitation described above may not apply to you.

Consumers in the European Union

The Bretford Limited Warranty is a voluntary warranty. It provides rights that are independent of and in addition to the consumer protection laws of the country of purchase. Consumers have the right to request service under either the Bretford Limited Warranty or under applicable consumer protection laws. However, the terms of the Bretford Limited Warranty do not apply to claims under such statutory consumer protection laws. These consumer protection laws also include, but are not limited to the following country specific laws:

- Austria- If a product is defective, consumers can in particular exercise the rights under §§ 922 ff. of the Austrian General Civil Code.
- Belgium- In the event of a defective product, consumers are entitled to free repair or replacement, by the seller, of products that do not comply with the sales contract within two years of the delivery date (Articles 1641 to 1649, and 1649bis to 1649octies from Belgian Civil Code).

- Czech Republic- In the case of a defective product, customers may file a complaint against the seller in accordance with section 2165 and others of Act No. 89/2012 Coll. Civil Code.
- France- Notwithstanding the Limited Warranty, Bretford remains in all cases responsible for the applicable legal warranty and, in particular, Bretford is responsible (i) for any lack of conformity stipulated in Articles L. 211-4 et seq. of the French Consumer Code ("FCC") and (ii) for any hidden defect stipulated in Articles 1641 et seq. of the French Civil Code.

According to Article L. 211-5 of the FCC: "To comply with the contract, the product must:

1. Be suitable for the use normally expected of similar goods and, where applicable:
 - (a) correspond to the description given by the seller and have the qualities that the latter presented to the buyer in the form of a sample or model; and
 - (b) present the qualities that a buyer can legitimately expect in view of the public statements made by the seller, by the manufacturer or by his representative, in particular in advertising or labeling; or
2. Have the characteristics defined by mutual agreement by the parties or be suitable for any special use sought by the buyer, brought to the knowledge of the seller and which the latter has accepted. "

Article L. 211-12 of the FCC provides: "Action resulting from lack of conformity lapses two years after delivery of the goods. "

Article L211-16 of the FCC states: "When the buyer requests from the seller, during the course of the commercial guarantee which has been granted to him during the acquisition or repair of movable property, a delivery in state covered by the warranty, any downtime of at least seven days is added to the duration of the warranty that remained to run. This period runs from the buyer's intervention request or the provision for repair of the goods in question, if this provision is subsequent to the intervention request. "

Regarding the warranty against hidden defects, Article 1641 of the French Civil Code states: "The seller is bound by the warranty due to hidden defects in the thing sold which make it unfit for the use for which it is intended, or which diminish this use so much that the buyer would not have acquired it, or would have given it a lower price, if he had known them. "

The first paragraph of Article 1648 of the French Civil Code provides: "The action resulting from latent defects must be brought by the purchaser within two years from the discovery of the defect. "
